Camper Code of Conduct

The following expectations are outlined clearly with campers at the beginning of each session. They are set in place in order to maintain a comfortable environment in which campers can grow and develop. It is important for campers to understand what the expectations will be before they participate in our camping program. Please take the time to look through the 'Camper Code of Conduct' with your son/daughter before she/he comes to camp.

1. Be kind. Partners For Youth (PFY) adheres to a NO Physical or Emotional Bullying Policy.
2. Be peaceful. PFY is a violence-free camp.
3. Be here. PFY expects campers to engage in programming, and to remain in the direct supervision of staff at all times.
4. Be cooperative. Campers are expected to participate and follow all emergency procedures at camp.
5. Be respectful. Everyone at PFY is expected to respect themselves, others, property, and the environment.
6. Be open. Learning new things and experiencing new activities requires an open mind and a sense of adventure, two qualities that we aspire to at PFY.

What Not to Bring

- Non-prescription drugs, alcohol, or tobacco as we are a substance-free facility and program
- Snack food or candy. Snacks in sleeping areas attract rodents, and campers will be provided with nutritious snacks as well as plenty of treats.
- Money. There is nowhere to spend money at camp.
- Electronic equipment. Cell phones, I pod's, DS's and any other electronics are easily damaged, and are not part of our scheduled activities. Therefore, they are best left behind.
- Favorite clothes. The trees do not care what you look like. Dress clothes can get wet and stained quite easily while camping.
- Cosmetics. Make-up, shaving cream, hair gel
- Knives, razors

Why is cotton clothing not suitable for Camp?

When cotton gets wet it STAYS wet and clammy for a long time. You will quickly get cold and stay cold until your cotton clothing dries. Wet cotton clothing is very uncomfortable at the best of times, then add in a whole day of paddling and you will be chaffed and have sore shoulders. Some good examples of NON COTTON clothing are: Polar Fleece, Wool, Polyester. 2nd hand stores are a great place to buy camp clothes.
